Details: South-West Regional Health Authority (SWRHA) is part of the effort to decentralize the management and provision of health care in Trinidad and Tobago. Launched in 2006, their HTML website quickly grew in terms of the volume of content and number of pages published which led to many challenges in managing and updating the website. SWRHA gave Rizon a call to step in and help them with content management, updates, and to fix annoying bugs. As an added bonus, Rizon was able to reduce the website load time by over 50%!

As the problems of a growing HTML based website emerged, the next evolution of SWRHA's online presence will ultimately feature Rizon's scalable CMS solution, focusing on content management, user administration, interactive services, and data gathering capabilities. Rizon is ready to stand and deliver in becoming your online partner in health.
